

Celebrating the Life and Work of Maud Karpeles 1885-1976.

"We're sure she dances without touching the ground"

London based women-majority teams which display types of traditional English folk dances have been invited to join together for a day of dance in honour of Maud Karpeles. This includes visiting and dancing in places that were important to Maud and remembering her contribution to folk dance.

12-1 – Kensington Gardens: Albert Memorial

1.45- 3pm: 33 Lancaster Gate W2 3LP

4-5pm: Cecil Sharp House: NW1 7AY

6-7pm: St Sepulchre's Church, Holborn Viaduct, EC1A 2DQ

Due to restrictions on collecting for charity in London we are not collecting for Women's Aid. However, bucket donations are gratefully received by the dancers who plan on donating the money, independently to Women's Aid.

This event is being organised by The Belles of London City.
More information can be found on their Facebook page.

Dancing for Maud. A Women's Day of Dance

